

WILD

AMAZING ANIMALS
IN A CHANGING WORLD

Regent Honeyeater

Anthochaera phrygia

[Secure Vulnerable ENDANGERED Extinct]

MELBOURNE MUSEUM

Victoria
The Place to Be

Animal type | Bird

Environment | Dry forest

Size | 20–24 cm long

Diet | Omnivore.

Did you know?

This animal is displayed with its Victorian Conservation status

They eat nectar, fruit, sap,
insects and honeydew

They have a brush-tipped
tongue to help them eat
nectar from flowers

museumvictoria.com.au/wild